Clay Workshop Set in Manzanita

(Manzanita) ... Clatsop Community College sculpture and ceramics instructor Richard Rowland will conduct a one-day clay workshop Friday, July 25, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Hoffman Center Annex in Manzanita.

According to Rowland, "This workshop will explore the use of indigenous materials to create objects that express a unique sense of place, the idea of custodial aesthetics, and individual perception with an emphasis on utility and relationships to materials."

Rowland has extensive experience in community wood fire anagama ceramics, native materials, workshops, installation art and workshops with at-risk youth. He has shown his works in Astoria, throughout Oregon, and as far away as Tasmania. He was the 2005 recipient of the Governor's Arts Award.

Persons interested in attending either class are asked to contact Glenna Gray at 503-368-3739 or glenna@nehalem.tel.net.

The Hoffman Center Annex is located at 594 Laneda Ave. in Manzanita.
